Dear Dan,

I'd like to get this out to you today, so I'll just limit this message to saying that I've again redacted the records as beyond the scope of the request or under exemption 6, which protects privacy. When you see a record with non-consecutively-numbered pages, please know that the pages I've removed were beyond the scope of the request. That seemed cleaner than sending you 6 or 7 pages in a row of black redaction.

There's more to send, but because of some training I need to do, it will likely be Wednesday before it goes out.

Regards,
Stephanie
